Subject: Time Off During the Eid Holiday for the Ending of Ramadan

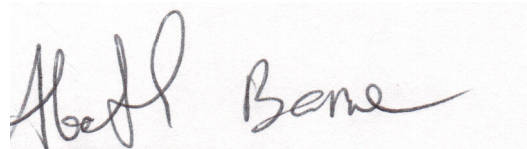

Dear Sir or Madam:

This letter is to inform you that Wednesday, October 1st 2008, will be the Islamic Holiday known as Eid 'Festivity', a day of enjoyment and celebration for Muslims all over the world. This marks the end of the blessed month of Ramadan, where Muslims around the world fast according to God's commandment, 'O you believe, fasting is prescribed to you as it was prescribed to those before you in order that you may gain 'taqwa' (God-consciousness, piety, righteousness)' (Quran, Chapter 2, verse 185). Please excuse Muslim employees and students who wish to be off during this religious holiday of Eid.

If you need further information, please do not hesitate to contact me at 866-7743.

Thank you for your consideration on this matter.

Sincerely,

Abdelghani Barre,
Islamic Center of Nashville, President
